FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

NORTH VERNON WOMAN SENTENCED TO FEDERAL PRISON FOR BANK EMBEZZLEMENT

PRESS RELEASE

Susan W. Brooks, United States Attorney for the Southern District of Indiana, announced that MARY DEBRA BOOHER, 47, North Vernon, Indiana, was sentenced to 27 months imprisonment today by Chief U.S. District Judge Larry J. McKinney following her guilty plea to embezzlement by a bank officer, director, agent, or employee. This case was the result of an investigation by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

BOOHER worked for Main Source Financial Group as a trust officer. During January 2005, BOOHER was caught taking $60,000 from a Main Source customer's account. A subsequent investigation revealed that since August 2002, BOOHER had embezzled approximately $183,000 from 12 different Main Source customer accounts.

According to Assistant United States Attorney James P. Hanlon, who prosecuted the case for the government, Judge McKinney also ordered BOOHER to make restitution in the amount of $165,503.66.
